

Wrinkle in Time, Wind in the Door, Swiftly Tilting Planet, Many Waters, and Library of If: A Journey Through the Dimensions with Madeleine L'Engle

Madeleine L'Engle's Time Quintet is a series of five science fiction novels that explore the themes of love, family, and the power of imagination. The series follows the adventures of the Murry family, a group of siblings who travel through time and space to fight against the forces of evil. The first book in the series, A Wrinkle in Time, was published in 1962 and won the Newbery Medal for children's literature. The other four books in the series were published between 1963 and 1982.

The Time Quintet is set in a universe where time and space are not constants. The Murry family travels through time and space in a variety of ways, including by using a tesseract, a four-dimensional object that allows them to travel great distances without actually moving.
